“Standish-Whiting House”

3,233± sf. Historic Home

3.31± Acres on Parsonage Pond

Rare opportunity to own a piece of Island history. Construction of the original c. 1667 one-room portion is attributed to Josiah Standish, son of Myles Standish and one of the town’s first settlers. In the mid-1800’s, Henry L. Whiting made several additions, giving a Queen Anne Victorian appearance to this unique home which has been a town landmark for centuries. Formerly a clergy house for the Congregational Church, this property set on the north side of Parsonage Pond, was more recently known as the Old Parsonage Bed & Breakfast. Centrally located close to Alley’s General Store this is an architecturally significant structure within the W. Tisbury Historic District.
